Sarah E. Barr is an associate in the Trial Group at Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP, where her practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, employment law, intellectual property and technology, and privacy and data security. She was previously an associate at Morrison & Foerster LLP. She has represented clients in a broad range of matters spanning employment issues, trademark and copyright defense, internal investigations, and energy regulatory and compliance law. Ms. Barr has experience in all aspects of litigation, including representative experience before state and federal trial and appellate courts, as well as in regulatory proceedings. She maintains an active pro bono practice with an emphasis on disability and immigration law.

Ms. Barr received her J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center, where she was a member of the Supreme Court Institute and served as a student criminal defense attorney with the Georgetown Criminal Justice Clinic. During law school, she was a judicial intern for the Honorable Raymond Gruender of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit and the Honorable Randolph Moss of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. After graduating from law school, she was a law clerk for the Honorable R. Brooke Jackson of the U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado. Ms. Barr also holds a B.A. in Journalism from the University of Missouri.

Outside her practice, Ms. Barr is actively involved in the community. She is a graduate of the Colorado Women's Chamber of Commerce Women of Influence &

Impact Leadership Program, and regularly volunteers with Food for Thought and the Special Olympics. She is currently studying to obtain her CIPP/US certification, the global industry standard for professionals in the privacy field.
