

AnaLisa Valle

Chief Legal Officer & General Counsel
Sphero, Inc.

AnaLisa Valle is the Chief Legal Officer & General Counsel at Sphero with a unique ability to balance a company's appetite for—or aversion to—risk with its need to continue to operate, generate revenue, and satisfy its board of directors and, ultimately, its equity holders. Her experience includes representing technology development and services companies, including cable and satellite providers, with a premier regional law firm based in Denver, and later acting as General Counsel first for a media and technology distribution company formerly traded on the NASDAQ, and then for a managed cloud services provider. Ms. Valle has a J.D. from the University of Colorado School of Law and a B.A. from the University of Michigan.